Mission Statement

Eastern University is a diverse, Christ-centered community preparing graduates to impact the world through faith, reason, and justice.

Vision Statement

As a community, Eastern University will Listen...Love...Learn...Lead.

Statement of Community Ideals

Eastern University is a community of students, faculty, administrators, and staff who are interested in achieving common goals through curricular and co-curricular activities. The Christian faith provides the basis which motivates, directs, and integrates the life of this academic community.

Each student brings a unique combination of interests, ambitions, abilities, habits, perceptions, values, and background. While the University accepts all students fully as they are, it also aims to assist them in developing their full potential. The expectations for community life at Eastern are devoted to this end.

Our Community Covenant establishes the standards for how we live in community together and reflects the University's theological heritage and educational commitments. Similar to other colleges or universities, students at Eastern University are asked to adhere to certain behavioral guidelines, these are found in our Code of Conduct. This Code of Conduct helps assure that the University fulfills its mission through nurturing personal and spiritual growth and maintaining an atmosphere conducive to learning and academic excellence.

1. Community Covenant

In the motto, "Faith, Reason and Justice," the Eastern University community affirms that life draws meaning from submission to Christ and service to others. Our philosophy statement affirms the triune God as the creator of all that is, the source of all truth. As beings created in the image of God, we have special responsibilities and challenges.

As those committed to living out the teachings of Scripture, we are to act justly, love mercy and walk humbly. We are to bring peace and unity where there is conflict and discrimination. We are to respect people and to value life above material wealth. Because we see people as having intrinsic worth, we avoid gossip, manipulative behavior and sexist or racist attitudes or behaviors, stressing instead integrity, commitment and compassion in relationships with others.

In our community of believer-scholars, we affirm the interrelatedness of what we believe, the way we live, and the way we learn. Our search for truth and commitment to Christ connect us not only to each other but also to God's creation and God's people throughout history.

With the task before us of searching for truth and promoting personal growth, we join together in the hope of achieving more together than we could separately. We agree to pursue the obligation and challenges of community membership with integrity, respecting our institutional heritage and practicing biblical accountability.

2. Eastern's Core Values

E - Excellence: We strive to achieve the highest standards in serving our community through distinctive academic experiences, student services, and community life.

A - Authenticity: We live with integrity and honesty, upholding the highest ethical standards as we seek to honor God with our lives, relationships, and work.

S - Stewardship: We treat our resources as gifts God has entrusted to us, including our earth, environment, facilities, and finances.

T - Thoughtfulness: Inspired by our commitment to truth, we think deeply, holistically, and critically about the world God has given us, benefiting from the insights offered by each individual in our rich learning community.

E - Enthusiasm: Anchored by our hope and joy in Christ, we approach each situation with optimism, working toward favorable outcomes, and celebrating our successes.

R- Relationships: With an attitude of humility and kindness, we honor and respect the dignity of each individual, promoting community, working to bring reconciliation to broken relationships, and championing diversity, equity, and belonging.

N - iNnovation: Promoting accessibility and affordability, we seek new and more effective approaches to education, exercising creativity to chart inventive paths forward into the future.

With this understanding, as members of the Eastern University community, we covenant together as a community of believer-scholars to pursue the challenge of living out these community values. We commit ourselves to promoting a campus atmosphere that is most conducive to personal well-being, service toward others, and the achievement of the University's distinctive goals, and educational objectives. We will strive to use our talents and time, both in and out of class, for the benefit of the community and the glory of God.

Student Code of Conduct

Statement of Purpose

Eastern University is “dedicated to ideas, inquiry, and the development of people of faith who will enhance the quality of society and the church. Toward that end, Eastern will continue to expand its formative role in the world as a university in which knowledge and wisdom are imbued, Christ-like engagement is inspired, and stewardship is modeled.” The institution presumes that all who join our faith filled and scholarly community do so for this primary purpose. Accordingly, rules and regulations governing conduct among community members are designed with the specific intention of enhancing the mission and vision of the University.

As a Christian university, Eastern is an academic community that strives to be characterized by Christian principles in all facets of its common life. While we recognize that there is great diversity among us in terms of commitment and belief as members of the community, we nonetheless submit ourselves to the example of Christ Jesus in our dealings with one another. His example of love, gentleness, meekness, and goodness shall be the standard that we seek in all of our inter-personal relationships. Individuals who choose to become part of the Eastern University community are asked to adhere to policies that represent high standards of ethical and moral behavior, both on and off campus.

The Student Code of Conduct exists for several distinct purposes. First, the Code helps motivate good behavior, create community, and enhance respect for individual differences while emphasizing a commitment to God’s creation and community. Secondly, the Code represents limits, a description of behaviors and actions that contradict the nature and purpose of Eastern University. Finally, the Code’s purpose is to facilitate personal growth through values education so that members of the student community are made ready to assume responsibilities within and beyond the campus community. To accomplish these purposes, students who do not uphold the standards of the University, who violate the provisions of the Code, or who fail to fulfill their obligations as members of the Eastern community will be held responsible and accountable for their conduct.

Behavioral expectations serve the aims and purposes of Eastern University as a Christian university and are exemplified by the following:

- Academic honesty and integrity
- Preservation of an uninterrupted, professional, and positive learning environment
- Conduct conducive to maintaining a genuine Christian environment where personal and spiritual growth are encouraged
- Respect and equal treatment for all individuals (self and others)

- Tolerance for diversity and differences of opinion

The following guidelines have been established as behavioral expectations for continued membership in the Eastern University community.

Jurisdiction

The Student Code of Conduct applies to all students enrolled at Eastern University and visitors primarily at the St. David's location. Students enrolled at Eastern University at Esperanza College and Palmer Seminary, as well as students enrolled at the Center City, City Avenue, and Harrisburg locations are governed by their respective policies and procedures, in conjunction with polices outlined within the Student Code of Conduct. This Code of Conduct applies to students participating in Eastern University sponsored overseas study programs and study elsewhere programs. The University has a vital interest in the character of its students and may regard their behavior as a reflection of a student's fitness to be a member of the student body. Accordingly, the Code of Conduct applies to conduct that occurs both on and off the Eastern University St. David's and branch campuses, and virtual platforms. The University reserves the right to sanction any student found responsible for violating the Code. The University will exercise its right to pursue violations of the Code and sanction students in cases where conduct has an adverse impact on the community and its members. Students will be afforded the elements of the process outlined within the Code. The University may impose sanctions up to and including expulsion, whether or not sanctions are imposed by Federal, State, or Local authorities.

In the event the student withdraws from the University with a disciplinary matter pending, the University retains jurisdiction over that person in the event the student seeks readmission or returns to the University community. It is advisable that all pending matters be adjudicated prior to student reenrollment or employment at the University.

Communications about Disciplinary Status

Eastern students should check their emails regularly for notifications from University officials regarding matters of student conduct, community standards, etc. Students will receive notifications for student conduct appointments and student conduct decisions via email.

Eastern University expects dependent students to initiate communication with their parents/legal guardians when enrollment or housing status is threatened or discontinued or when circumstances exist that seriously jeopardize the student.

Eastern University reserves the right to notify parents/legal guardians about the disciplinary status of their child/ward to the extent consistent with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

In addition, Eastern University reserves the right to communicate with parents or guardians of students of any age when there are violations of the Community Standards that involve the use of alcohol and/or drugs, or behavior that could result in a student physically harming themselves or physically harming another member of the University community, or there are violations that threaten the peace, health, and safety of the community.

Community Policies

The list of prohibited behaviors set forth in the following statements is intended to be illustrative only. The list is not intended to be all-inclusive. Other misconduct, irresponsible behavior, or behavior that is disruptive to the community including without limitation, violations of published University policies, rules or regulations, or criminal statutes violates the Code whether or not specific description is included here. Items that violate state or federal law, the provisions of this Code, or other policies and regulations set forth by the University will be confiscated by appropriate University personnel and not returned. The policies included here may be amended during the course of the academic year as deemed appropriate.

1. Academic Honesty and Integrity

Academic integrity is vital to any university community. The Eastern University student is expected to live a life of honesty and integrity consistent with the demands of Christian discipleship. Therefore, dishonesty is regarded by Eastern University as an egregious violation of both the academic and spiritual principles of this community. “According to the Scriptures, followers of Jesus Christ will...be people of integrity whose word can be fully trusted (Psalm 15:4; Matt. 5:33-37).”

Academic policies that relate to community and behavioral expectations are included within this Code and yet, are subordinate to the policies outlined in the applicable University Catalog, academic handbook, or most recent communication from the Academic Dean. To view most recent academic policies, please contact the Office for Student Development at studev@eastern.edu.

A. Identification

“Eastern University is a Christian university dedicated to the preparation of undergraduate, theological and graduate students for thoughtful and productive lives of Christian faith, leadership and service.” Accordingly, Eastern confidently expects that all students will comport themselves in a manner that promotes the continuance and enhancement of the University’s purposes, ethos, and traditions.

Any student found to have committed or attempted to commit the following misconduct is subject to the disciplinary process outlined in Implementing the Code of Conduct Section:

- Personal Identification: Students are expected to carry identification (E-card) issued by the University. Upon request, students must surrender their ID card to authorized personnel (e.g. Public Safety Officers, Student Development staff, Resident Assistants, or other University Officials). Students must provide accurate information and must comply with the directions of the University personnel in the performance of their duties.

- False Documentation and Statements: Students are prohibited from furnishing or conspiring to furnish the University with false information in the forms of forgery, alteration, or misrepresentation in documentation, records, and/or written or oral statements.

B. Academic Dishonesty

Since academic dishonesty takes place whenever anyone undermines the academic integrity of the institution or attempts to gain an unfair advantage over others, this list is not and cannot be exhaustive. The student is responsible to become familiar with acceptable standards for research and documentation and to abide by them. Any student found to have committed or attempted to commit the following misconduct is subject to the disciplinary process outlined. Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to:

- Plagiarism: Plagiarism is defined as presenting another person's words, work or opinions as one's own. This includes the presentation of words, pictures, ideas or artwork that are not your own, as if they were your own in spoken, written, or visual form. In written work, three or more words taken directly from another author must be quoted and cited appropriately. The source of distinctive ideas must be attributed. The words or ideas of another are not made your own simply by paraphrasing.
- Fabrication of data or material: Fabricating material includes creating or augmenting data, evidence, or statistics to support or represent your original research.
- Falsifying material content: Submitting a paper or project written by another student or person as if it was your own is akin to theft or lying. Such dishonesty, threatens the integrity not only of the individual student, but also of the university community as a whole. Falsifying material content also includes submitting a paper written by you for another course or occasion without the explicit knowledge and consent of that instructor.
- Cheating: Cheating includes trying to give or obtain information about a test or exam when the instructor states that it is to be confidential. Cheating extends to trying to take someone else's exam, or having someone take one's own exam. While taking a test, exam, or quiz, students shall rely on their own mastery of the subject matter and not attempt to receive help in any way not explicitly approved by the instructor. This includes the use of notes, study aids, or another's work for both in person and online tests and examinations.

- Assisting in or contributing to academic dishonesty: Students who are found helping or attempting to help others commit an act of academic dishonesty will be held responsible to the Code. This includes situations in which one student copies from or uses another student's work (past or present). Students are responsible for ensuring that their work is not used improperly by others. This does not include group projects where the instructor directs collaboration.

A student who commits an act of academic dishonesty will receive disciplinary sanctions, which may include failure of the course or suspension from the University. Given the serious consequences of academic dishonesty, the student is encouraged to discuss any difficulties openly with the appropriate instructor instead of resorting to dishonest conduct.

Processes and Penalties for Academic Dishonesty:

All cases of academic dishonesty will be reviewed and adjudicated by the instructor. The instructor will submit case notes to the Academic Dean and the Dean of Students or their designee. As academic dishonesty constitutes a violation of both the academic and spiritual principles of the University community, Academic Deans and/or The Office of the Provost will communicate regularly with the Office for Student Development regarding such instances. As such, disciplinary action may occur at both the course and University level.

The Provost and Academic Deans have the discretion to modify the following procedures at any time during a specific investigation or adjudication, as circumstances warrant. Nothing contained in these procedures is intended to create, or be interpreted as creating, any contractual rights on the part of any student.

Academic Penalty:

In the event academic honesty is violated, according to the definition adopted by the faculty and whatever additional definition the instructor has published to their students, the instructor may do one of the following things, according to their assessment of the severity of the infraction and any extenuating circumstances.

- Assign a grade of F or "0%" on the paper, project or examination but allow resubmission, resulting in a maximum combined grade of C.
- Assign a grade of F or "0%" on the paper, project or examination without the opportunity for resubmission.
- Assign a grade of F in the course.

Students may appeal the allegation of academic dishonesty and their grade through the University procedure for resolving grade disputes.

Disciplinary Penalty:

All cases of academic dishonesty will be reviewed by the Dean of Students or their designee for possible disciplinary action. Any disciplinary action will occur in addition to the academic penalty.

Disciplinary penalties may include educational initiatives, disciplinary probation, suspension or disciplinary dismissal.

C. Classroom Behavior Expectations

The primary responsibility for managing the classroom environment rests with the faculty. Students who engage in any prohibited or unlawful acts may be directed by the faculty member to leave the class.

Behavior that a reasonable person would view as substantially or repeatedly interfering with the conduct of a class or conduct that is disruptive, disrespectful, or threatening will not be tolerated. In addition to academic measures that may be taken, behavioral infractions may be resolved through the Student Code of Conduct.

2. Environmental Expectations

The creation of a safe and peaceful environment where both people and property are respected is the responsibility of every community member. At Eastern University we believe that “we are to care not only for people throughout the world, but also for creation itself as responsible stewards of the environment and other physical resources.” Consistent with this environment, illegal, offensive, and dangerous behaviors, including but not limited to those listed below are prohibited. Wed.: No Visitation Hours

Fri., Sat.: 1:00 pm – 1:00 am

- Visitation to the extent of co-habitation is not permitted by the university and is considered a violation of the Code of Conduct.
- Visitation hours may be extended for special occasions, in this case the change in hours would be clearly posted and communicated to residential students.
- Visitation hours may be further restricted at low occupancy times or to enhance the academic atmosphere. Restrictions to visitation hours will be clearly posted and communicated to residential students.

The Gallup Apartments, Doane B, and Hainer Apartments operate under extended visitation hours from 1:00 pm – 1:00 am every day. Visitation guidelines for graduate student housing apartments located in Gallup Hall and Doane Hall can be found in the agreement between the graduate student and the Housing Office. Graduate students should consult with the Housing Manager at housing@eastern.edu for all questions and clarifications related to guests and visitation outlined within this agreement.

O. Interference with University Operations

Intentional obstruction of teaching, research, administration, disciplinary proceedings or other activities that occur on University premises or at University sponsored or supervised events. Violations of the University's Demonstration policy are a violation of this policy and may result in sanction(s) ranging from disciplinary warning, up to and including suspension.

P. Parking/Vehicles on Campus

All vehicles operated and parked on Eastern property by students, faculty, and staff must be registered with the University. University parking privileges are non-transferable. The fraudulent use or attempted fraudulent use of parking permits is likely to result in disciplinary probation, fine and/or suspension of privileges. Student must adhere to all Public Safety rules and regulations related to parking, vehicle privileges, and operating a motor vehicle on campus.

Q. University IT Policies

Eastern University provides access to both an internal campus network and to the Internet. While such access, used appropriately, legitimately advances the academic mission of the University, there is also the possibility for its misuse. The Policy on Computing and Network Ethics is intended to provide guidelines for the use of network resources that both reflect the Mission Statement of the University, and protect community members and others from harm. The complete policy can be found here:

<https://www.eastern.edu/about/offices-centers/information-technology>.

Please keep in mind that all university emails and materials contained in Brightspace and other university owned and licensed platforms are the property of Eastern University.

3. Relational Expectations

Among the strongest expectations for any voluntary community are those defining behaviors between and among its members.

As Eastern's Foundational Commitments attest, "our commitments lead us to work towards shaping a campus community that embodies values of Christian witness, caring and compassion, justice and integrity, competence and affirmation. We wish to treat each member of the campus community with fairness, dignity, and respect, seeking a spirit of unity and harmony as we join together to achieve our common mission."

Because Eastern University is Christian University and a Christian community, we are concerned with establishing standards of conduct consistent with a Christian lifestyle. We believe these standards flow from biblical values and from our commitment to be witnesses to one another. We seek to reflect the message of Jesus Christ and the teachings of the Gospels. We also believe these standards are in the best interests of each individual student as well as the community as a whole. Therefore, insensitive, disrespectful, harassing, threatening, obscene, or violent behavior is considered most egregious.

Any student found to have committed or attempted to commit the following misconduct, including but not limited to the behaviors listed below, is subject to the disciplinary process outlined in Implementing the Code of Conduct Section:

Verbal threats or abuse, harassment, intimidation, threatened and/or actual physical assault, disregard for the rights and welfare of others, activities that cause or threaten emotional, mental, or physical harm or suffering; actions or words that demean the dignity of an individual, actions that interfere with or cause interference with another student's academic performance and/or process.

Defamation of others through word, print, visual media, or other mediums is subject investigation and adjudication through this code.

A. Bullying

Eastern University defines “bullying” as any repeated and/or severe behavior that is likely to intimidate or intentionally harm or control another person physically or emotionally, and which is not protected by freedom of expression. This includes behavior that may occur online (also known as cyberbullying), in person, by telephone, mail, or any other action, device, or method.

To report bullying in academic settings, please reach out to the Dean of your department in writing to make a report. It is helpful to include a description of your experience, the names of all alleged parties, the name of your professor, and the name of any academic settings in which you believe bullying has occurred.

To report bullying in a residential or student life setting, please provide a written statement to your Resident Director, Student Group Advisor, Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards, and or the Dean of Students. It is helpful to include a description of your experience, the names of all alleged parties, and the setting in which you believe bullying has occurred.

Limited Immunity for Self-Reporting

Eastern University offers limited immunity for individuals that report activities that may fall within the University definition of hazing even if their personal conduct is in violation of the bullying policy.

Immunity may be granted if the individual self-reports an activity of bullying while seeking the immediate medical or mental health related attention for themselves or for another individual experiencing a medical or mental health emergency.

Immunity may also be granted for self-reports of which the University had not obtained previous knowledge of the incident. However, if an individual who is a victim of the bullying incident makes a complaint, or if the University had prior knowledge of the bullying activity from another source, the University will process the incident per the standard judicial process.

A decision to grant immunity means that the University will not independently pursue disciplinary action against the self-reporting individual.

Process and Sanctions for Violations of Bullying Policy:

Reports and complaints of bullying will be investigated thoroughly. All violations of the Eastern University Bullying Policy will be adjudicated per the Implementing the Code of Conduct section outlined within.

- Potential Sanctions for bullying are include but are not limited to:
  - o The imposition of fines.
  - o The withholding of diplomas or transcripts pending compliance with rules or payment of fines.
  - o The rescission of permission for the organization to operate on campus or school property or to otherwise operate under the sanction or recognition of the institution or secondary school.
  - o The imposition of probation, suspension, dismissal, or expulsion.

B. Hazing

Eastern University is committed to fostering a “genuine community where individuals show compassion and friendship towards others in the spirit of Christian love” (Eastern University Foundational Commitments, Section 5). Because this commitment is rooted in our deeply held belief that all human beings are created in the “image of God as an expression of God’s eternal love” (Eastern University Faith Statement, Section 1), we find the practice of hazing to be a distortion of true Christian community that devalues personhood and thus it is incompatible with our beliefs and practices.

Hazing is illegal in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and under Commonwealth law may be considered a “summary offense” or “misdemeanor of the third degree” (PA Senate Bill 1090). Hazing of any kind will not be tolerated at Eastern University and any acts of hazing will be considered serious violations of university policy.

Definition of Hazing

Eastern University supports and will enforce the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania definition of hazing (PA Senate Bill 1090). A person commits hazing when the person intentionally, knowingly or recklessly, for the purpose of initiating, admitting or affiliating a minor or student into or with an organization, or for the purpose of continuing or enhancing a minor or student's membership or status in an organization, causes, coerces or forces a minor or student to do any of the following:

- Violate Federal or State criminal law.
- Destroy or remove public property.
- Consume any food, liquid, alcoholic liquid, drug or other substance which subjects the minor or student to a risk of emotional or physical harm.
- Endure brutality of a physical nature, including whipping, beating, branding, calisthenics or exposure to the elements.
- Endure brutality of a mental nature, including activity adversely affecting the mental health or dignity of the individual, sleep deprivation, exclusion from social contact or conduct that could result in extreme embarrassment.
- Endure brutality of a sexual nature.
- Endure any other activity that creates a reasonable likelihood of bodily injury to the minor or student.
- Engage in public stunts, morally degrading or humiliating games and activities, forced financial obligations that are outside the standard requirements of the organization, or late-night activities that interfere with scholastic activities.

Even if no malicious intent is present, an activity may still be considered hazing if it is directed at any student(s) in a group in order to subject them to abusive, humiliating, harassing, degrading, or any dangerous activity (this may also include 'pranks'). Participation or cooperation by the individual(s) being hazed does not excuse the violation. Failing to intervene to prevent, failing to discourage, and/or failing to report those acts may also violate this policy.

Reporting of Hazing

It is a violation of Eastern University hazing policy that a student should fail to report a known or suspected incident of hazing. A known or suspected incident of hazing may be reported to the Director of Student Conduct in person at the Office for Student Development (Walton 200) or by emailing studentconduct@eastern.edu.

Limited Immunity for Self-Reporting

Eastern University offers limited immunity for individuals that report activities that may fall within the University definition of hazing even if their personal conduct is in violation of the hazing policy.

Immunity may be granted if the individual self-reports an activity of hazing while seeking the immediate medical attention for themselves or for another individual experiencing a medical emergency.

Immunity may also be granted for self-reports of which the University had not obtained previous knowledge of the incident. However, if an individual who is a victim of the hazing incident makes a complaint, or if the University had prior knowledge of the hazing activity from another source, the University will process the incident per the standard judicial process.

A decision to grant immunity means that the University will not independently pursue disciplinary action against the self-reporting individual.

Process and Sanctions for Violations of Hazing Policy:

Reports and complaints of hazing will be investigated thoroughly. All violations of the Eastern University Hazing Policy will be adjudicated per the Implementing the Code of Conduct section outlined within.

- Sanctions: Pursuant to Pennsylvania law (PA Senate Bill 1090), any individual or organization which participates in hazing may face any or all of the following sanctions from the University:
  - o The imposition of fines.
  - o The withholding of diplomas or transcripts pending compliance with rules or payment of fines.
  - o The rescission of permission for the organization to operate on campus or school property or to otherwise operate under the sanction or recognition of the institution or secondary school.
  - o The imposition of probation, suspension, dismissal, or expulsion.

C. Bias-Related and Harassment-Related Behavior

It is the intent of Eastern University to maintain an educational environment free of bias. Actions that are characterized by bias based on an individual's race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation, creed, national origin, ancestry, age, or disability are intrinsically opposed to the values of Eastern University.

Bias-related acts also have a great tendency to provoke retaliation, inflict significant emotional harm on their victims and incite community unrest and division. For all these reasons, they are not acceptable behavior on the Eastern University campus. In this light, violations of University policy are considered to be of a unique nature when characterized by a bias towards the personal characteristics of other individuals.

Harassment is characterized by aggressive pressure or intimidation and covers a wide range of behaviors of an offensive nature. Behavior that is repeated or continuing uninvited contact that serves no useful purpose beyond creating alarm, annoyance, or emotional stress is considered harassment.

When violations of University policy are committed and it can be shown that these violations had the purpose of substantially interfering with an individual's academic or work performance, or created an intimidating, hostile or demeaning educational or employment environment, the violator can be subject to the full range of sanctions outlined in the Community Standards for Student Conduct.

Sanctions for bias-related incidents can include, but are not limited to:

- Educational training or programs in the area of individual differences
- Community service
- Disciplinary probation/loss of good disciplinary status
- Suspension from on-campus housing
- Suspension from the University
- Expulsion from the University

Repeated offenses will generally result in separation from the University.

D. Indecent Conduct

In keeping with University community standards and in alignment with the values of Eastern University, conduct which is lewd or conduct a reasonable person would find offensive, affronting, and/or alarming is subject to be sanctioned under the Code of Conduct. Depending on the nature of the incident, indecent conduct may be considered a violations of the University's Sexual Assault, Sexual Harassment, or Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Additionally, incident conduct includes but is not limited to any unauthorized use of audio or video recording on Eastern's premises without the Eastern community member's prior knowledge and consent when such recording is likely to cause injury or distress. This includes but is not limited to surreptitiously taking pictures pf another person in a gym, locker room, or restroom.

E. Retaliation

Retaliation, intimidation, or coercion directed against any member of the community, anyone who intends to register a complaint or anyone who has done so will be considered a violation of this Code.

Any member of the community who, after appropriate investigation, is determined to have retaliated against a complainant or one who expresses the intent to complain (or against any other party involved) will be subject to disciplinary action. If any member of the Eastern University community believes they have been retaliated against, that person should consult immediately with the Office for Student Development, the Dean of Students, or a responsible University authority.

F. Sexual Intimacy

As a Christian community, Eastern University expects a sexual lifestyle that is consistent with our understanding of biblical teaching. For our community, sexual intimacy and specifically the genuine and complete expression of love through sexual union requires a commitment to living and sharing a life in marriage. It is the University's position that sexual intimacy is prohibited outside the commitment and bond of marriage. The University reserves the right to take action under the Code of Conduct for students found in violation of this policy.

Immunity for Self-Reporting

Eastern University offers limited immunity for individuals that report activities that may fall within the University definition of sexual intimacy even if their personal conduct is in violation of the alcohol, drug, visitation, guest, or sexual intimacy policy(ies).

Immunity may be granted if the individual self-reports an activity of sexual intimacy while seeking immediate medical attention for themselves or for another individual experiencing a medical emergency and or while making a report of sexual assault, sexual harassment, or any other form of sexual misconduct.

G. Sexual Assault/ Sexual Harassment / Sexual Misconduct Title IX

Sexual assault is a violation of Title VII of the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the 1972 Education Amendments Act, the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act, and the standards which Eastern University expects of its students. Sexual assault is a crime that involves power as the motive, sex as the weapon, and aggression as the method. Anyone can become a victim of sexual assault regardless of age, gender, race, appearance, or economic status.

In alignment with our values, our community seeks to create a culture of consent. The university defines consent as a clear, voluntary, unambiguous, and positive agreement to engage in specific sexual activity through a sexual encounter. Consent cannot be inferred from the absence of a "no"; a clear "yes," verbal or otherwise, is necessary. A person has the right to say "no" at any stage of an encounter. However, a person does not have to say "no" for the attack to be considered a sexual assault.

Reporting Procedures

Members of the Eastern University community are encouraged to report information regarding an alleged incident of sexual harassment or assault.

To file a report of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or sexual misconduct, contact the Title IX Coordinator, Dr. Jacqueline Irving, Vice Provost for Student Development, Walton 200, St. David's. Phone: (610) 341-5823, jirving@eastern.edu. You may also make a report to a Residence Life Staff member, Student Development employee, or by visiting: <https://www.eastern.edu/about/offices-centers/public-safety-610-341-1737/title-ix-and-reporting-sexual-misconduct>

Acts of sexual assault, sexual harassment, and other sexual misconduct are violations of this Code of Conduct and Title IX and may constitute crimes. More detailed policy and definitions are outlined under Eastern's Sexual Violence Awareness Program and related policies by visiting <https://www.eastern.edu/student-life/student-development/important-info-policies-all-students/sexual-violence-awareness>. These policies are incorporated by reference into this Code of Conduct. Resources and accommodations are available to individuals who have been subjected to sexual assault, sexual harassment, or other sexual misconduct regardless of whether a formal complaint is filed under this Code.

Persons found responsible for acts of sexual assault, sexual misconduct, or other sexual misconduct are subject to the full range of sanctions as listed in Implementing the Code of Conduct section. These sanctions include suspension and expulsion.

Residence Life Policies

The Office for Student Development is committed to providing students with a residential experience that enhances and extends the educational mission of the University. The Office sets the following policies, procedures, and regulations for residential students and their guests and expects students to adhere to these guidelines as we seek to form a community that is welcoming, safe, and conducive to learning for all of our residential students.

While living in community at Eastern University, you are likely to meet people who are different than you. Eastern University, as stated in our mission, seeks to "treat each member of the campus community with fairness, dignity, and respect, seeking a spirit of unity and harmony as we join together to achieve our common mission." As such, Eastern University is committed to welcoming and housing all admitted undergraduate students and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, physical or mental ability, or sexual orientation, with the goal of "fostering an environment where diversity is appreciated and reconciliation is practiced."

Students found in violation of these policies will be subject to disciplinary action under the Student Code of Conduct. These policies may be amended during the course of the academic year as the University deems appropriate.

1. Residence Requirements

Eastern University's St. David's campus is a residential campus. As such, Eastern University guarantees and expects all undergraduate residential students to live on campus.

A. Assignments

Housing assignments are the exclusive responsibility of the Office for Student Development and are typically implemented through the Housing Manager. The Housing Office reserves the right to change or modify housing assignments and to fill housing vacancies as necessary. Students may not change assignments without written authorization from the Office for Student Development. Students who change assignments without authorization are subjected to disciplinary action.

Eastern University housing assignments and roommate placements are based on information submitted in the Housing Portal within StarRez. Questions regarding housing assignments and roommate placements will be addressed through the Housing Manager and the Office for Student Development. Questions and requests will be handled with sensitivity and an ethic of care.

Housing assignments are reserved for full-time, undergraduate students matriculated at the University. Limited shared housing is available to graduate students and is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

B. Move in/Move Out

Move-in and move-out dates and times are established by the Office for Student Development. Students must move-in and move-out according to these dates and times. Failure to do so may result in a fine assessed in the amount of $40 per resident per day. The Office for Student Development does not permit students to access their residence halls/apartments prior to the scheduled move-in dates or remain in their housing assignments beyond scheduled move-out dates unless a University staff person or faculty member specifically sponsors that student for participation in an approved, University sponsored and supervised activity. Requests for early move-in dates outside of approved sponsored events are subject to review and approval and students may be charged a daily fee. All University policies and provisions of the housing contract are in effect for all students given permission to arrive early or remain late.

Under specific circumstances, the Housing Manager under the direction of the Dean of Students may open an application process for extended stay and or early arrival requests to be processed on a case by case basis. For more information on how to apply for early arrival or extended stay accommodations, please contact the Housing Manager at least four weeks in advance of your requested accommodation date.

C. Lounge Utilization / Furniture

Lounges are provided for the use of all building residents. Lounge and public furniture may not be moved into rooms or apartments for personal use. Each resident found with lounge furniture in their room or apartment is subject to disciplinary action.

D. Personal Property

Students are required to remove all personal property and furnishings (e.g. couches, chairs, rugs, electrical appliances) from their room/apartment prior to check-out at the end of the academic year or when vacating the housing assignment. Students will be charged a labor and removal fee for items left in spaces and forfeit the right of ownership of these belongings. The University assumes no legal obligation to pay for loss of, or damage to, items of student's personal property occurring on campus or in its building or storage areas.

Personal property must be stored in residential room assignment. Students are not permitted to store personal property in other residents' room assignments, hallways, lounges, bathrooms, stairwells, laundry rooms, storage closets, or other common areas.

It is highly recommended that students insure their own personal property through a parental homeowner's insurance or through renter's/tenant's insurance policy.

E. Pets

For health and safety reasons, pets are not permitted in the University residence halls or apartments, with the exception of a small, non-electric fish tank without a filter. Animals required to assist students with documented needs are approved once the completion of university procedures as identified by the Cushing Center and in conjunction with University Housing is achieved. Students who violate this policy may incur charges for damages incurred to other residents as well as damages to any and all University property. Students who repeatedly violate the University's Pet Policy will be referred to the Student Code of Conduct Office for adjudication. Potential sanctions for violations to the pet policy may include dismissal from the residence halls without a refund.

F. Room Changes

Residents interested in changing their room assignment must obtain and complete the room change request with the Housing Office. In all cases, changes must be approved by the Housing Office. In the event that a room change request is precipitated by a roommate conflict, room changes will only be approved after other methods of resolving the conflict were attempted and or completed. Mediation of conflict may be facilitated by the RA and/or RD. Every effort should be made by the residents to resolve the issues.

Students who change room assignments without the proper approval may be subjected to daily fines, reassignment, disciplinary action, and/or termination of their housing contract without a refund.

G. Room Condition / Damage Assessments

The condition of the residence hall rooms and campus apartments are assessed by Residence Life staff prior to fall semester start date. The condition is documented on the Room Condition Form. Students are provided with the opportunity to review and make necessary adjustments to the Room Condition Form within 5 business days of their assumption of possession (the day the student moves in).

During occupancy, students are not permitted to affix construction of any kind to the walls, ceiling, or floors. Residents may not drill holes, or permanently attach objects to the walls, ceiling, floor, doors, windows, or furnishings. Decorations should not be mounted to the wall to avoid marring the painted surface when removed. Tape, duct tape, nails, tacks, and screws are prohibited, as they damage wall surfaces. Residents may not attach stickers to doors, windows, walls, ceilings, furnishings and should make every attempt to remove command hooks and strips when vacating the housing assignment.

Residents may not paint any area of university facilities.

Upon departure, residents are expected to return their rooms to return their rooms/apartments to their original condition. Prior to the close of the academic year, students will be provided with detailed information concerning expectations for the condition for their room/ apartment at the time of departure. After check-out Residence Life staff will assess each room against the original Room Condition Form. Occupants will be held individually or jointly responsible for damages or missing furniture that were not specified on the original Room Condition Form. Residents may be held financially responsible for damages to common areas and equipment (e.g. hallways, lounges, bathrooms), when the students responsible for those damages do not claim responsibility and cannot be identified.

Residents may also be held financially liable for the removal of trash and or furnishings not provided by the University when a resident(s) do not claim responsibility for such items.

H. Room Furnishings

Room furnishings provided by the University must remain in the rooms and/or apartments they were designated for at all times. At no time may students remove room furnishings, including, but limited to, mattresses and desk chairs. Requests for exemptions should be submitted through the Housing Manager by emailing housing@eastern.edu.

I. Semester Breaks Periods

Students are not permitted to remain in the residence halls during semester break periods without authorization from the Office for Student Development.

Requests can be made through the break housing request process, as orchestrated and approved by the Housing Manager. The Office for Student Development reserves the right to approve or deny requests as necessary. Residents who attempt to remain in the halls without authorization are subject to daily fines of $40 and other disciplinary action as deemed appropriate.

University rules and policies remain in effect unless otherwise communicated.

J. Terms of Occupancy

In signing the University Housing Contract, students agree to occupy the space they have been assigned on or after the date specified by the University and to vacate their assignment within 24 hours of their last examination or at the conclusion of a full-time academic internship, graduation, suspension, withdraw, or termination of full-time student status.

2. Behavioral Responsibilities

Living in community requires sensitivity toward and respect for the needs of others. As Eastern University's primary enterprise is education, the following policies are intended to protect the right of each student to enjoy an educationally, purposeful residential environment.

A. Academic Atmosphere

As residential living is intended to complement a student's academic pursuits, other activities are appropriately subordinate to an individual's desire to study. Toward that end, each residence hall will maintain Quiet Hours from 9:00 pm to 8:00 am, Sunday through Thursday and 11:00 pm to 8 am on weekends. During those hours, students and guests are expected to refrain from activity that is disruptive to the residential community. During exam periods residence hall Quiet Hours will extend to include 24 hours each study and exam day.

When Quiet Hours are not in effect, consideration and respect for others should continue to guide student and guest behavior and activities.

B. Disruptive Behavior

The University reserves the right to reassign or temporarily revoke on-campus housing or take appropriate action as deemed necessary, without a formal hearing, for those students whose behavior is considered disruptive or potentially detrimental to the individual, roommates, and/or others in the residential community.

C. Unauthorized Recording Equipment

As it is an infringement on the privacy of others, the use of hidden/unauthorized surveillance equipment (e.g. cameras, video cameras, webcams, and recorders, monitoring devices) is strictly prohibited in the residence halls.

3. Safety and Security Responsibilities

The Office for Student Development expects all members of the Eastern University community to be active participants in the creation and maintenance of a secure and safe residential environment.

Toward that end both residents and non-residents are expected to adhere to the following policies:

A. Dangerous Practices

The following are defined as particularly dangerous behaviors in a residential community. Students found engaging in these behaviors may be subject to the disciplinary action as outlined within.

- Blocking or preventing the use of room doors, hallways, exit doors, and stairwells.
- Actions that compromise the security of residents including, but not limited to, propping open or otherwise tampering with the locking mechanisms of interior or exterior doors.
- Entering or misusing restricted areas such as roofs, balconies, fire escapes, attics, workrooms, or storage areas.
- Possession, use, or storage of flammable/combustible materials or liquids, including outdoor grills (prior permission needed for apartment spaces).
- Individual or group activities that may lead to injury or destruction of property including, but not limited to, ball games and sports played in the halls.
- Removal or damage of exit signs, emergency phones, or other safety devices.
- Tampering with fire safety equipment such as extinguishers, smoke detectors, sprinklers, and alarms.
- Throwing any object or substance with potential of defacing or damaging personal or University property or causing personal injury or disruption.

B. Electrical Appliances

Because of their potential contribution to accidental fires and unsanitary health conditions and in an effort to conserve energy, the following electrical appliances are restricted or prohibited in all University residences. Students found in violation of these policies are subject to immediate confiscation and disposal of appliance(s) and referral for disciplinary action.

- Hot plates, induction cooktops, personal space heaters, and any appliance with an open heating element are prohibited.
- Toasters or open coils, toaster ovens, air fryers, George Formal grills, electric woks, crock pots, pressure cookers, and griddles are prohibited. Permission must be granted in writing by the Office for Student Development for an exemption to be granted. Please contact the Housing Manager at housing@eastern.edu to request an exemption.
- All lamps and appliances should be UL approved. Halogen lamps are prohibited.
- Refrigerators are restricted to 4 cubic foot unit per residence hall room.
- Extension cords and surge protectors should be UL approved and not rated less than 125 volts/15 amperes. Residents should employ prudent use of surge protectors to protect property from unexpected electrical damage.

C. Fire Safety

Alarms

Students may not disregard a fire alarm or refuse to evacuate a building where an alarm is sounding, regardless of its nature (drill, false alarm, or actual alter). Residents who fail to evacuate a building in a voluntary and timely manner will be subject to disciplinary action.

Candles / Open Flames:

Candles (of any type or form, whether decorative or functional), open flames, candle warmers, and the use of incense, are all prohibited in the University residence halls and apartments. Prohibited items will be confiscated and not returned. Violations may result in disciplinary action under the Code of Conduct.

Equipment

Tampering with or the misuse of fire safety equipment is considered exceptionally dangerous behavior in a residential community and represents a serious breach of community safety standards. See section on Residence Life policies, dangerous practices, section 3.A.

D. Food Preparations / Storage / Trash Disposal

Storage and food preparation in residence hall rooms frequently contributes to electrical overload as well as fire hazard, sanitary and health concerns. As a result, meal preparation in the residence hall rooms should be kept to a minimum. Additionally, in the interest in controlling pests, all food items in the residence halls should be kept in tightly sealed plastic containers. Trash should be emptied regularly and disposed of in the designated trash disposal areas.

E. Guests and Visitation

University Guest and visitation policies are highlight in the Community Policies section of the Student Code of Conduct.

F. Room Entry

The University reserves the right to enter, search, and inspect rooms and all contents of a room without prior permission from residents. Situations which may result in University searching the contents of a room include, but are not limited to, if the University has reason to suspect that an emergency situation exists; if it has reason to suspect a violation of University policy; to locate persons or missing property; to complete fire safety inspections; to facilitate maintenance; or to insure that safe and sanitary conditions exist. No community member shall install additional locks or devices that may impede access by University officials or modify room locks in any way.

Room inspections will occur prior to Winter and Spring Breaks and as necessary by University staff or Township personnel or their independent contractors, for the purpose of insuring that safe and sanitary conditions are being maintained. Students who persist in maintaining unsafe or unsanitary conditions after being asked to correct deficiencies may be subject to disciplinary action.

Prohibited or illegal items discovered during an inspection will be confiscated and not returned.

G. Room Key/Combos

Residents are responsible for their room key and hall combinations in a way that does not jeopardize the safety and security of individuals or property. Residents are expected to carry their keys and to keep interior room doors locked as appropriate. Room keys may not be duplicated or lent to other students. Residents of a room may be held accountable for violations of the Code of Conduct that occur in their rooms, even if the resident is not present.

A lost key should be reported immediately to the Office for Student Development, replacement fees to apply. Key return policies will be communicated by the Office for Student Development in conjunction with year-end closing notifications. Residents who fail to return their key will be subject to an increased key replacement fee.

H. Windows/Window Screens/Window Displays

Under no condition should windows be blocked or window screens removed, nor should windows be used as a method for access or egress of residence hall room except in the case of an emergency.

Banners, signs, and window decorations may not be hung on the exterior of buildings or windows. Items hung on the interior of windows and displayed outward toward public areas must be in keeping with the University's values and standards.

4. Publicity and Sales in the Residence Halls

A. Publicity

All advertising prepared for distribution or posting in the residence halls must be stamped for approval by the appropriate department and process.

The University reserves the right to remove all postings that do not comply with this policy.

The St. David's campus posting policy can be obtained by emailing studev@eastern.edu or contacting the Residence Life Director.

B. Sales and Solicitation

Students and student organizations are not permitted to infringe on the privacy of residents in University residence halls.

All fundraisers need to be approved by the Student Programming Coordinator through the Office for Student Development. The Student Programming coordinator will clarify expectations, however, door- to-door solicitation is generally prohibited.

Implementing the Code of Conduct

Maintaining and implementing the Student Code of Conduct is the responsibility of every member of the University community. Students, staff, and faculty should reinforce through their behavior the ideals expressed by the Code and encourage every student to do likewise.

Administratively, The Dean of Students, the Office of Student Conduct, the Residence Life staff, and the Department of Public Safety are primarily responsible for assuring compliance with the Code. The Dean of Students, the Director of Student Conduct and Community Standards, and their assistants are responsible for reviewing student conduct in general, educating students to appropriate community standards, and as necessary assigning sanctions for the purpose of encouraging compliance with those standards.

While an alleged disciplinary violation is being investigated and at any time during the adjudication of the matter, the Conduct Review Officer may, at their discretion may put in place appropriate administrative measures to ensure the safety and well-being of the community, to preserve evidence, and to maintain integrity of the Student Code of Conduct process.

*Note: Palmer Seminary Students are subject to disciplinary processes as outlined in the Palmer Seminary Student Handbook.

1. Initiating a Complaint

Any University student, faculty, or staff member who believes that a student(s) has violated the Student Code of Conduct may file a report with the Dean of Students, the Department of Public Safety, or the Residence Life staff.

Any member of the University community (“complainant”) may file a complaint against a student(s) or student organization(s) (“respondent”) alleging violation of the Student Code of Conduct. In the case when the University initiates an incident report, it becomes the complainant.

After a complaint is made, the Office for Public Safety and or the Student Conduct Office investigate the report, as necessary. When a complaint is filed, the Dean of Students and/or his or her designee (Conduct Review Officer) will review the complaint and determine whether or not, if proven, the allegations would constitute a violation of the Code. If so, the respondent will meet with the Dean of Students or the Conduct Review Officer to review the complaint and to discuss the procedures available to them. Complaints will be addressed promptly.

The University reserves the right to exercise discretion on taking disciplinary action against students. Complaints can be made:

The Conduct Review Officer will provide the rights and options available as well as the potential sanctions for the alleged violation in question.

During the meeting, the alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct are discussed and the Respondent is afforded the opportunity to review the facts which form the basis of the allegation. If a student fails to respond to a notice of a meeting with the Conduct Review Officer, they may find the student responsible and in the student’s absence sanction the student accordingly, and/or place a hold on the students account until the meeting takes place.

3. Procedural Options

If the University elects to pursue action under the Student Code of Conduct, the Conduct Review Officer will schedule a meeting with the Respondent. If the case sanction is no greater than a Written Warning, the Conduct Review Officer may elect to administratively sanction the student and notify them in writing. Upon notice of the sanction, the student may request a meeting be held if there is an objection to the imposed sanction.

If a student fails to respond to a notice of a meeting with the Conduct Review Officer, they may find the student responsible and in the student's absence sanction the student accordingly, and/or place a hold on the student's account until the meeting takes place.

*Note: Adjudication of allegations of sexual assault, sexual violence, and violations of Title IX policies are subject to their own and separate processes.

A. Administrative Action

During the meeting with the Conduct Review Officer, the students suspected of a violation of the Code who accept responsibility for their behavior as documented will be sanctioned accordingly by the Conduct Review Officer and receive notice of the sanction(s) imposed. Acceptance of responsibility may be rejected by the Conduct Review Officer in cases that warrant additional investigation. Students who accept responsibility do not waive their right to appeal for review of the sanction as outlined in the Code.

Administrative meetings with a Conduct Review Officer, follow the general procedures outlined in the Conduct Review Board Procedures, with the Conduct Review Officer serving as the Board.

B. Conduct Review Board

The Conduct Review Officer may, at any time, determine at their discretion that due to the seriousness of the potential sanctions, of the nature or complexity of the facts of the case, it would be beneficial to have the matter heard by a Conduct Review Board. As an institution of higher education, the University Conduct Review Board proceedings are administrative in nature and designed to determine responsibility for alleged violations. As such the Board's proceedings are governed by University policies, not by processes associated with the criminal justice system. A Conduct Review Board is generally composed of one student, one faculty member, and one administrator. All members of the Board shall be impartial with no conflict of interest.

Conduct Review Board Procedures

1. The Conduct Review Officer will inform the Complainant and the Respondent of the Board's procedures and the date and time for the proceedings. Both parties are expected to participate fully with the Board. If either party fails to appear at a scheduled time, the Board may proceed without them.

2. The Complainant and/or the Respondent may challenge the composition of the Conduct Review Board members if there is a believed conflict of interest. Requests for changes to Board members must be received in writing, outlining the conflict of interest. Complainant and Respondents may not contact Board members. It is the responsibility of the Conduct Review Officer to make changes to the composition of the Board and to be the point of contact for Board members.
3. All proceedings will be held in facilities designated by the Conduct Review Officer and shall be private. The Conduct Review Officer may accommodate concerns for wellbeing, safety, and/or fears for confrontation during the proceedings.
4. A Complainant and/or Respondent participating in a Conduct Review Board may be accompanied by an Advisor of their choosing. The University does not appoint or provide an Advisor. The Advisor's role is limited to providing support, guidance, or advice to the involved student before and during the proceedings. The Advisor is not entitled to address the Conduct Review Officer, the Conduct Review Board members, the witnesses, or act in any advocacy capacity during the proceedings.
5. If the involved parties are interested being accompanied by an Advisor at the proceedings, they must inform the Conduct Review Officer in writing, with the name of the advisor, in advance of the proceedings.
6. During the Conduct Review Board, the Complainant and the Respondent may present statements concerning the alleged violation(s) and may present relevant witnesses. The witnesses must be identified in advance and their statements should be included in the investigation. The Complainant and the Respondent will be afforded the opportunity to review all written statements and materials prepared for the Board members in advance of the Conduct Review Board proceedings. During the proceedings, Complainants and Respondents may direct questions only to the Board. Witnesses will provide information to and answer questions from the Board members.
7. After all statements and materials have been presented, the Complainant and the Respondent may present final comments to the Board. Subsequently, and in private, the Board will promptly determine by preponderance of the evidence (whether the conduct was more likely or not to have occurred as alleged) whether the Respondent has violated the Student Code of Conduct. The Board's determination shall be by majority vote. Written findings of fact and final determinations will be provided in writing to the Conduct Review Officer. The Conduct Review Officer will provide notification separately and nearly simultaneously to the Complainant and the Respondent.
8. The Conduct Review Officer will then determine the sanctions and will notify the Respondent and Complainant separately and nearly simultaneously of the sanction imposed. Sanction notification will be provided in writing. Both parties have the right to appeal.

4. Interim Actions

In certain circumstances, Student Development may impose restrictions including, but not limited to, contact limitations, a University or residence-hall suspension, a transcript hold, or a degree hold prior to the final outcome of a case. Interim action may be imposed to ensure the safety and well-being of the members of the University community and to preserve the safety of University property, to ensure the student's own physical or emotional safety and well-being, to ensure normal operation of the University if the student poses a threat of disruption, and to preserve the integrity of the conduct process. Interim actions can be added, amended, or removed at any time at the discretion of Student Development. Students may request an interim action be amended or removed at any time by submitting an interim action appeal request in writing to the Assistant Vice President for Student Development. Interim action appeals will be reviewed by a designated University employee whose decision in the matter will be final.

Although interim action may be deemed necessary, the University will work with the impacted student to identify if any options exist for alternative coursework so that the interim action has as minimal an impact as possible on the student's academic progress.

5. Sanctions

After the finding or admission of responsibility the Conduct Review Officer will impose sanctions after considering the following:

1. Statements made or evidence presented during the disciplinary proceedings;
2. Disciplinary precedent;
3. Prior disciplinary record of the Respondent; impact to the larger University community;
4. Guidelines in the Student Code of Conduct.

The Conduct Review Officer may consult with other University officials as they deem appropriate.

Sanctions serve to reinforce that students are held responsible and accountable for their behavior. This accomplished by measures to educate, to deter future misconduct, to establish community ideals, and to provide consequences for one's actions.

Eastern University reserves the right to notify parent(s)/legal guardian(s) about the disciplinary status of their child/ward, to the extent that it is consistent with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

The following student conduct sanctions shall comprise the range of official actions which may be imposed for violations of rules and regulations. One or more may be imposed in response to a given situation.

Educational Measures

An action that requires the student to complete an educational task as assigned by the Conduct Review Officer. Failure to complete the assignment within the designated timeframe will result in additional disciplinary action. These may include, but are not limited to, research and educational writing assignments, alcohol and drug education, and anger and behavioral management classes.

Verbal/Written Disciplinary Warning

A Disciplinary Warning is an official verbal/written notice to a student that a particular action or type of behavior is in violation of stated regulations or policies, and, therefore, unacceptable. Continuation of similar behavior or future violation may be cause for more severe disciplinary action.

Loss of Privileges

Loss of privileges means during a designated period of time the student is not permitted to engage in specific privileges and opportunities at the University.

Disciplinary Probation

Such probation implies that the offense was of a more serious nature. The probation becomes part of the record on file with the Office for Student Development. The length of the probationary period will be defined for each case. When on disciplinary probation, one may or may not be eligible to participate in co-curricular activities in which the student would represent the university to individuals and groups outside of the university. Violations during the probationary period will usually result in a more punitive response.

Restitution

The offender is required to make reimbursement for damage to or misappropriation of property. Reimbursement may take the form of appropriate service to repair or otherwise compensate for damages or fines. Restitution may be combined with another of the possible disciplinary sanctions.

Work Assignment

The requirement to perform certain duties as restitution for inappropriate behaviors and actions in the form of uncompensated service to some task recognized as valuable to the University community. The Conduct Review Officer will make the assignment of duty and will verify that the work has been completed within the communicated timeframe. Failure to complete the service will result in further disciplinary action.

Disciplinary Fine

Under certain circumstances, a monetary fine may be assessed. It will be posted to the student's account along with notation as to the nature of the fine.

Parental/Coach/Advisor Notification

When a student's behavior and/or attitude seems inconsistent with university expectations, the university may notify and discuss behavioral concerns with a parent/legal guardian(s). Additionally, coaches and/or advisors may be notified when student behavior or action does not align with the expectations of the team/organization and/or when loss of privileges have occurred.

Leave of Absence

When a student's behavior and/or attitude seems inconsistent with university expectations, it may be determined that the student should take a leave of absence to evaluate themselves and their relationship to Eastern University.

Suspension from Residence Hall

The student loses their privilege of living on campus. The student does not receive a refund on room or board.

Suspension from University

Participation in the university as a student is suspended. The suspension may be from a classroom or completely from the University. The suspension will normally be followed by a period of disciplinary probation. Students are subject to academic penalties for work missed as a result of disciplinary action. Faculty members are not obligated to permit make-up of missed assignments and examinations in such cases. The student does not receive refund on tuition, room, or board.

Expulsion

One's status as a student is terminated for an indefinite period with little, if any, likelihood of re-admission. The student does not receive refund on tuition, room, or board.

6. Appeals

The Assistant Vice President for Student Development or their designee will review appeals for two possible reasons 1) for new disciplinary proceedings or 2) to review a sanction. The Vice Provost may consult with other University officials as deemed appropriate. All decisions made by the Vice provost are final, including whether or not an appeal is procedurally permitted.

Grounds for an Appeal

The Respondent or Complainant may request an appeal based only on one or more of the following grounds:

Appeal for New Disciplinary Proceedings:

1. Procedural Defect: a material procedural defect on the original disciplinary hearing
2. New Evidence: new evidence that was not available, through no fault of the appealing party, at the time of the original disciplinary proceeding.
3. Disproportionate Sanction: the sanctions imposed were disproportionate to the violation.

Process to Appeal

The Respondent and the Complainant may request an appeal within one week of notification of the decision/sanction by the Conduct Review Officer.

Appeals must be made in writing, signed by the appealing student, and submitted to the Assistant Vice President for Student Development. The appeal shall consist of a concise and complete statement setting the grounds for appeal. If an appeal is submitted that does not meet the "Grounds for Appeal," it will be denied.

When granting appeals, the Assistant Vice President for Student Development will meet with each party separately to discuss the appeal. Each party may request to be accompanied by an advisor, parent(s) and guardian(s) during the appeal meeting. Any requests for an accompanying party must be made in writing in the initial appeal request submitted to the Assistant Vice President for Student Development. The Assistant Vice President for Student Development reserves the right to approve and or deny requests for accompaniment.

Appeals will be reviewed promptly and the Assistant Vice President for Student Development will provide written notification of the appeal outcome to the appropriate parties.

Student Records Retention and Disclosure

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Acts affords students the right to: review their education records within 45 days of the university's receipt of the request; request an amendment of the education records that are believed to be inaccurate; and consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. A student may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures to comply with the requirements by writing to Family Policy Compliance
