| Templeton Honors College | The library hours are very limiting; especially on weekends and in the evenings. Students need a quiet space to do work, and the library is the only place specifically allocated for that purpose. I know that the hours are limited due to a limited number of staff, but could there be more flexible hours where it is not always possible to check out books? A changing of the hours would be really wonderful. Thank you! | The Book Thief by Markus Zusak | Shannon Hale or Mary Oliver | Moulin Rouge | Buzzfeed.com |

| Undergraduate student (Traditional) | Although I know that there have been staff reductions within the library, I am very unsatisfied with the hours that the library is open. Many students including myself, are hard workers and need to do work late in the evening, especially on friday nights and saturday nights. It is very difficult to work around the schedule of the library. I would even suggest the library being open 24/7. You could simply post a security guard outside the door, add an e-card pass machine, and allow people only to study in the library during these times. | | | | |

| Undergraduate student (Adult) | APA format should be a class for all incoming students, all professors should follow the same APA format. This is my 5th class and every instructor does APA format different. How can the students learn if the entire university does not follow the same format. Starting to feel very disappointed at Eastern. Thank you to Joy from the library for coming to our class last night looking forward to using the information she showed us. I would like to have a survey for each professor at the end of the class. I have some concerns. | Their Eyes are Watching God | Zora Neal Hurston | Imitation Of Life | |

| Undergraduate student (Traditional) | I like our library. It has some very nice quiet corners, although the quiet rules are not enforced, which can be very annoying sometimes. The worst is when adult non-students (staff or professors, etc) walk into the library and are talking as if they were outside. Not cool. | Other than the Bible, I like the Unseen Realm for theology and bible, and I like the Scipio trilogy (Posteguillo) for historical novels. | One of my favorites is Brian Godawa | One of my favorites is Raiders of the Lost Ark | eastern.edu |
| Undergraduate student (Traditional) | | Chronicles of Narnia | C.S. Lewis | The Dark Knight | www.youtube.com |
| Templeton Honors College | WHY did you shorten the library hours. The fact that Eastern is a university and it doesn't have a 24-hour library is absolutely ridiculous. Then, the library hours are shortened? Are you kidding me? This is insane; we are college students and we need a library that is open all the time for us to be able to do our homework in. | | | | |

Library databases are a great resource, but a bit cumbersome to use - requiring different logins and remembering where to look for which type of resources can be tough. We had a good intro session for library resources, but it could have been better - more info on how to find what you need and more clearly presented. Handouts were useful but not thorough enough.
